

In-House training & L&D Consultancy Projects

TLC now offers members expanded services for in-house training and L&D consultancy projects. Please contact us to request in-house training or with any enquiries about bespoke L&D projects such as team or leadership development, or other consultancy services.

Following initial discussions with TLC to scope the member's preliminary requirements; one or more Consultants will be recommended for consideration. Before any commitment to proceed, you will have opportunity to meet and discuss the project with the suggested consultant/s; TLC will then email you a full quotation of the costs in units.

If the project does go ahead, the chosen consultant will communicate with you closely to ensure the design and delivery of the in-house programme is aligned with the stated requirements and the organisation. Throughout the process TLC staff will facilitate the planning of all stages of the project; we will also provide you with independent support to ensure your expectations are fully met at all times.

Rate per day: from 9 units (£1200 +VAT)

NB: TLC will send all members a unit price quotation by email for agreement before commitment is made.
